Eagles To Contest Tulseo In Opener

The Canyon Girl Eagles, victorious after a 68-40 victory over Stephenville Saturday night, will meet Tulseo Midway High School's girls from Corpus Christi at 8:40 p.m. Friday in the state play-offs in Austin.

Coach Bob Schneider said earlier this week that if the girls win the Tulseo game, they will advance to the finals at 8:50 p.m. Saturday. If the Eagles lose, they will play in the consolation match at 11:30 a.m. Saturday.

Carthage and Angleton will meet at 7:30 p.m. Friday and the winner of that bout will take on the Canyon-Tulseo winner in the finals and consolation.

Schneider said he has had no reports on the Tulseo team, but said that earlier in the season they had a spotless record.

The girls defeated both Stratford and Spearman, the two other teams from this area which are advancing to the state meet in other districts.

Canyon's girls stomped the Stephenville Honeybees Saturday to gain the state play-off berth.

Stephenville was defending state champions, having won last year over the Girl Eagles.

Pam Richardson hit 22 points in the girls' victory and was backed up by Susan Swartzell who hit 21.

Jan Sternberg, along with Miss Richardson and Miss Swartzell, will fill out the forward starting positions this weekend for the Eagles.

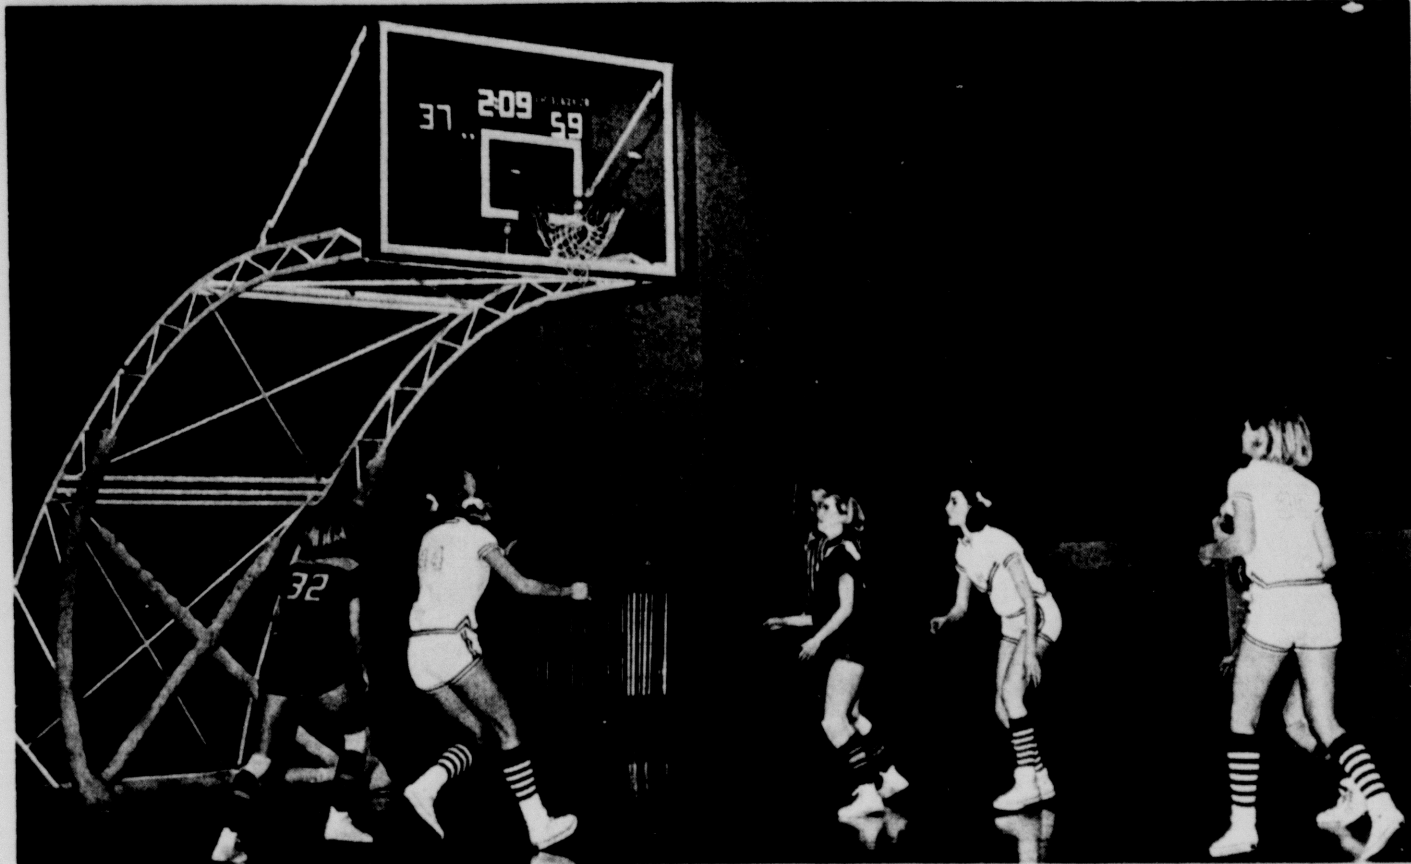

Starting guards, who were instrumental in the Canyon victory Saturday, will be Cheryl Davis, Beverly Brown and Jenna Thompson. All tournament games will be played in Gregory Gymnasium. Adult tournament tickets are $6. Student tickets are $3. Single adult admission in semi-finals is $1 and $1.25 for the finals. Single student admission is 50 cents for the semi-finals and 75 cents for the finals.

Wilson will write the game story for The Canyon News.

Band Earns UIL Medals

Canyon High School band members earned a total of 49 solo-ensemble medals for superior performance at the University Interscholastic League solo-ensemble contest which was held Saturday at West Texas State University, according to Gary Zook director.

The junior high school band, directed by Terry Milligan, won 13 superior ratings by soloists and five ensemble groups also won superior ratings of I on class I work.

With but 2:09 remaining in the game, Susan Swartzell, 44, starts to take the rebound from a Canyon Girl Eagle shot. The Girl Eagles defeated the Stephenville Honeybees 68-40 in action Saturday night in Snyder for the regional crown. They will be in Austin this weekend to try for the state title. Two Hour Courses

Canyon Public Schools are exploring the possibility of conducting a six-week summer enrichment program by tuition for students from elementary, junior high and high school levels.

"At present," said Jerry Jacobs, superintendent of schools, "the project is just a possibility." Working directly with the possible summer school program are teachers from all levels in addition to Ocoee Holt, director of elementary curriculum, and Hobart McDonald, secondary curriculum director.

"Questionnaires went out with report cards to parents of elementary students at both Rex Reeves and Gene Howe schools," said Mrs. Holt. "We are beginning to get results now and will release the results as soon as completed."

Canyon High School and Canyon Junior High students will receive questionnaires late this week, according to McDonald who explained that counselors and teachers will discuss the enrichment program with students before the questionnaires are sent on to the parents.

"We are looking at this as an enrichment program at present," said Mrs. Holt. "Of course there will also be two regular basic elementary courses offered in mathematics and reading on both the enrichment and remedial levels."

McDonald said that the "enrichment type subjects will be offered for both the junior high and high school levels, and if the need is shown in basic subject areas this will be worked into the scheduling."

In addition to subjects which have been suggested by the teaching staff of the schools, parents and students from both levels will have the opportunity to request additional courses, if desired, on the questionnaires.

The high school-junior high level of classes would all be conducted at Canyon

FROM THE

CANYON RIM

Canyon has two basketball teams it can be proud of this year.

The Buffaloes are in New York by this time and the Canyon High School girls will be in Austin almost by the time this newspaper gets on the street.

And they are both Cinderella teams to some extent.

Three or four years ago the Canyon High School girls team was the door mat of the district. We not only didn't win games. We were humiliated.

I was at the school board meeting one night when Joe Gill suggested that we either hire a coach and put something into the program or abandon girls basketball.

The school board decided to put something into the program. Our girls went to regional last year and have a good chance of playing in the finals in Gregory Gym in Austin Saturday night.

Basketball is a good sport for young girls. It is one of the few in which they can participate. And they love it.

We put up a basketball goal over the patio at our house. Little girls from junior high have gotten our money's worth using it.

Coach Bob Schneider deserves a lot of the credit for the good showing made by our girls this year. Bob is patient, painstaking and knowledgeable of the game.

He has excellent discipline and has taught his charges to play well under pressure.

Coach Dennis Walling brought his Buffaloes from a humiliating 1966-67 to a respectable season his first year as head mentor in 1967-68 and then to the national spotlight.

His stellar sharpshooter, Mike Mitchell, remarked that WT's basketball fortune started an upward swing the day Walling was signed as head coach.

The city campaign is heading into the homestretch. It is important that nothing is said or done during the campaign which would impair our ability to work together as a community after April 1.

Big cities can have hammer and tong politics. This is a luxury a small town simply cannot afford. People who are willing to assume leadership roles in small towns are too scarce to have them fighting among themselves if it can be avoided at all.

The Kappa Alpha Order has been magnanimous in agreeing not to display the Confederate Flag at athletic events.

They actually were under no obligation to make such an agreement. It denotes their desire for peace and harmony that they did so.

They were under no greater obligation to refrain from display of the Confederate Flag because it offends someone than are long-haired, bushy-headed and bearded students to get a shave and hair cut because their taste offends some of us.

It does offend some of us but in a free society all of us have to put up with some things we don't like. These might be banners or beards.

I hope a reciprocal show of good will is forthcoming from the other side.

The High Plains of Texas has the highest percentage of native-born English-speaking, white Americans of any comparable area in America. The average Plains resident is blessed with congenial neighbors, and friends who would risk life or limb for him. It is difficult for him to conceive of a situation like the one that occurred in New Orleans last week: A screaming teen-aged girl was dragged from a public street, forced into a car, and carried away by three men. Not one of the twenty witnesses offered to help the girl or even inform the police of her plight. They did not want to get involved.

It's doubtful if such a tragedy could have occurred in our area. Yet Plains residents are just as loath to get involved in another situation which poses as great a danger to our country as did the kidnappers to the hapless girl: the bureaucracy that is destroying our "land of the free."

And we are already involved. Almost half of every hour we work goes to pay government bills at all levels. Tired of the treadmill? The paycheck never quite equal to the bills? We are not wage slaves; we are tax slaves.

means. He must also give the make of his gun, caliber, gauge, or type of component, quantity, and date of purchase. So if one buys ammunition, he must register his gun. What good is a gun without ammunition?

Gun registration is, of course, no deterrent to the criminal; he steals his anyway. It will be much safer for robbers when all honest men are disarmed. To the victims of violence, the government says "submit." To the perpetrators it says "let us help you." Then it spends millions of the taxpayers' dollars investigating, defending, counseling, and subsidizing the lawless.

But, while the government submits to violence, it uses the full power of its many offices and personalities to halt honest, peaceful dissent - thus demonstrating that bureaucrats can co-exist with thugs far better than with differing ideas.

Since there is probably no more pleasant place in all the world to live than the High Plains of Texas, it is easy for us to go our comfortable ways without getting involved with the problems of the rest of the world. But for how long?

The working middle class has always had to support the idle rich. Now that we are also saddled with the idle poor, how long can we last? Surely every good American wants to help people who are powerless to help themselves. But what constitutes help?

Even the chipmunks in the parks will not seek food if the visitors feed them. As a result, their sleek little bodies become dull and scrawny, and they soon sick and die.

If we love our neighbors, we should involve ourselves in a zealous effort to prune the bureaucracy and waste from our government at all levels, and provide useful employment for all who are willing and able to work.

The violent and the lawless should be restrained whatever the cost. If we refuse to be the "home of the brave," we need no longer expect to be the "land of the free."

"Coming Home," a rustic painting of the Southwest by Texas artist G. Harvey, now hangs in the administrative offices at West Texas State University. The painting, donated by the artist, was unveiled Wednesday by Dr. Emilio Caballero, (left), head of the university Art Department, and university President James P. Cornette and Mrs. Cornette.

Austin Artist Donates Painting

"Coming Home," a painting by G. Harvey of Austin, has been given to West Texas State University by its artist. The painting was unveiled Wednesday and will hang in the Administration Building.

G. Harvey is the signature used by Gerald Harvey Jones, who can number former President Lyndon B. Johnson, Gov. John Connally of Texas, and other notable figures among his buyers.

Although he is only 35 years of age, he has gained national attention and has been received in the highest competitive Eastern competitions.

Harvey has been tutored by several nationally known artists, but most of his inspiration and instruction has been directly from nature. During the years, he has devoted serious efforts to the study and painting of the rustic Southwest, the inspiration of his life's work.

"As a child I spent many hours listening to my father talk of the ranch life and frontier days of Texas. I had been painting seven or eight years before I attempted Western historical subjects, always collecting materials, visiting ranches, reading authentic books, preparing for the day when I would start telling with the brush the story of the days of my grandfather and men like him," he recalled.

Harvey has worked on a series of 12 paintings for the LBJ Ranch, after having had favorite locations pointed out to him by the President and Mrs. Johnson. At one time he was supervisor of arts and crafts at the Texas Union of the University of Texas.

In his sketching jaunts he has encountered many unusual situations ranging, as he says, "from delivering coon hides for a cedar chopper to running after 'wetbacks' along the Mexican Border."

His works were exhibited recently in the Canyon Art Gallery, a co-donor of "Coming Home" to the University.

In accepting the painting for the university, the Board of Regents of State Senior Colleges said in a resolution that "Coming Home" was painted by "a renowned artist and over the years this work will increase in its esthetic and monetary value."

Ken Vickers, Vickers Bros. Farm, Dalhart: "We farm 1500 acres and we feel your engine maintenance program is the main thing. It saves us time when we could be doing something else. Your engine program also keeps from tying our money up in investment."

Charles Vickers, Vickers Bros. Farm, Dalhart: "Our first year farming up here in the Dalhart country we used five high-speed engines and after running these engines for a year, we feel that over a three to four year period they would not stand up like the slow-speed Peoples engine. Our two new Peoples engines will irrigate 400 acres."

"I believe that as happy as we are now with these engines, that any time we have one of ours to go out, we would just turn over to a slow speed engine with Peoples."

"We didn't realize how much time we spent servicing and taking care of our engines. Since we've gotten these two Peoples engines, we certainly can compare the time saved."

to be covered by our insurance," declared County Judge Carroll Brown.

Jennings told the court that the same clause appears in contracts between the county and other fire departments including that of the city of Amarillo.

Christopher said the new contract is for one year instead of the customary two. "It is impossible for us to predict costs," Christopher noted.

The new contract calls for payment by the county of $100 for each rural fire call which is the same as stipulated by the contract currently in force. The current contract expires April 1.

In other business, the court accepted an insurance program for the county as submitted by George Blackwell who recently was appointed insurance manager for the county.

Plaques were presented to the 11 members of the county tax study committee.

The court accepted pledged securities from First National Bank for deposits of Umbarger School District and Randall County. First National is the county's depository.

H. V. York, Highway Department engineer, told the court the state would accept maintenance of the county line road which runs east of Happy in Precinct 3 along the Swisher County line.

York said the state will accept maintenance of the 4.3 miles of the road already paved and add 5 more miles of pavement.

The court was notified by letter that John Amends has been employed by the 47th District Court Probation Department at a salary of $7,008 a year. Amends is a former Amarillo assistant chief of police.

A bid of $2390 by Russell's Stationery of Amarillo was accepted on 100 record binders for the Randall County Clerk's office.

The commission approved a bid form.

It was also announced at the meeting that in the first nine months of the fiscal year which began April 1, 1968 the city has amassed expenditures totaling $316,329.25 or 66 per cent of the total $478,307 appropriation.

Commissioners also approved the placing of street lights at the following locations: four on 4th Avenue between 24th Street and 25th Street; four on Creekmore Drive between 11th Street and 18th Street; one at the corner of 9th Avenue and 28th Street.

The lights will be with metal poles and underground wiring and will cost $3.50 per month each.

"The State of Texas has not at this time adequate facilities for research and teaching in the field of medicine and dentistry and there is an urgent need for supplying additional doctors and dentists to minister to the increasing population of the state," the senator was quoted as having said.

such a full schedule with regular basic courses that they can't work in interest courses during the regular school year," said McDonald.

Classes would be conducted for six weeks with two hour class periods. Courses and credits would be recorded on the student's transcript, but would not qualify to satisfy the regular graduation requirements.

According to McDonald, the tuition summer courses would involve 1/2 units of credit and would cost $20 per 1/2 unit course or $22.50 for the personal typing course. A maximum of two half-units of credit could be taken in the summer. Out-of-district students would pay an additional $7.50 tuition fee.

Elementary level summer school would be used almost entirely as enrichment courses in various fields not presently incorporated into the school program, according to Ocoee Holt.

"For instance," said Mrs. Holt, "we could take field trips in some of the courses such as Panhandle History and nature study. We could visit the museum, the Holly Sugar plant in Hereford and other points of local interest to these subjects."

The elementary level curriculum has been a joint effort of teachers and the following suggested subjects have been included in the planning format: Reading (remedial and enrichment), Mathematics (remedial and enrichment), Science, Art (drawing and painting, crafts, arts and crafts), Children's Theatre, Puppetry, Panhandle History, Nature Study, Perceptual and motor skill development program, Creative Writing, Music (band, choir and strings), Spanish and Physical Education (tumbling, trampolines and gymnastics).

Also included in the agenda for the elementary level would be a pre-school class for children who will be entering school for the first time in the fall of 1969-70.

"This is our first survey," stressed Mrs. Holt. "We will determine the results and a second questionnaire will be sent out to show which areas have come through with enough interest to warrant a class in these subjects."

"We have examined the possibility of combining grade levels in certain subject areas," said Mrs. Holt explaining that five second grade students wishing to take nature study could be included with the third grade level for this course, etc.

Course teachers would come from the present classroom teachers, according to Mrs. Holt. "We would also draw from student teachers and from college students who are already qualified to teach in certain subject areas where needed," she said.

"Although we have not settled on the dates for the school yet," said Mrs. Holt, "we are considering the school day hours of 8-10 a.m. and 10-12 a.m. and if enough interest is shown to warrant more we would consider a 3:30-5:30 p.m. class."

"Students could be enrolled for one course (two hours) or more if desired," she said. "No attendance records will be kept and the school program would not be compulsory."

Suggested course price has been $20 per course for the six-week term. The school cafeteria would not be open during this period.

"Gene Howe School would operate independently on its summer school if enough interest is shown there," said Mrs. Holt. "If Rex Reeves goes ahead with the program and Gene Howe interest is not sufficient then those students living in that area would be eligible to attend the summer school here, but their parents would have to make arrangements for their transportation."

"Students not attending schools of the Canyon Independent School District would be required to pay a comparable out-of-area tuition fee to enroll for the summer courses," stated School Superintendent Jerry Jacobs.

Six Fans Will Attend NIT Game

At least six loyal fans will be watching when West Texas State University basketballers meet Ohio University Friday night in New York City.

WTSU's cheerleaders will leave today for New York to help lead cheers for the Buffs in their first round game in the National Invitation Tournament.

Cheerleaders are Becky Brewer of Wellington, Carolyn Durham of Sweetwater, Carol Cutbirth of Sweetwater, Linda Sims of Perryton, Cynthia Gerald of Canyon and Jan Jarnagin of Canyon.

Buffaloes ...

a 9-3 record. Last Saturday Miami upset nationally ranked Notre Dame in the first round of the NCAA tournament, Ohio edged Miami 60-59 during the season.

The Bobcats, who won 7 and lost 16 a year ago and finished last in the conference, have taken 10 of their last 11 games and will carry a five-game winning streak into the NIT. Five of their eight losses during the recent season were to Big Ten Conference teams and all came on the road.

Among the prominent teams they have beaten are Indiana 80-70, NIT-bound Army 68-60 in the consolation game of the Milwaukee classic after losing by only six points to Wisconsin, and Loyola of Chicago 103-92.

West Texas also has victories over some outstanding teams to its credit. The Buffs have shipped Colorado State University, New Mexico State and Weber State, all of whom posted first-round triumphs in the NCAA tournament last week; Houston on the Cougars' home floor and Utah State twice.

The Buffaloes narrowly missed scoring double triumphs over New Mexico State and Colorado State. They lost to New Mexico State 69-68 at Las Cruces and 55-53 to Colorado State at Fort Collins when a basket with three seconds to play decided the contest.

Ohio also has one previous appearance in the NIT, gaining the finals of the 1941 classic, the year before West Texas was first invited.

The Bobcats lost to Long Island University, one of the best teams in the nation during that era, 56-42 after beating Duquesne 55-40 and City College of New York, another Eastern power, 45-43. The present Ohio coach, James E. Snyder was a starting guard on that Bobcat team.

West Texas and Ohio are similar in strength and scoring power. The Buffaloes are averaging 87.6 points a game and Ohio is averaging 84.2. The Bobcats have a slightly better defensive, yielding 78.4 points a game to West Texas' 81.

The Buffaloes' shooting percentage is better, making 47.4 per cent of their field goals and 70.8 per cent of their free throws as compared to Ohio's 43.4 and 67.8 averages.

During the regular season the Bobcats showed a superior rebounding average--52.7 per game to West Texas' 47.6.

Both teams have at least one outstanding shooter--Simmie Hill, the 6-foot-6 All-American, for West Texas and 6-foot-3 Gerald McKee, twice all-conference, for Ohio. Each is the leading rebounder for his team.

Hill, a senior, broke his own single season scoring record by tossing in 598 points this past season. He averaged 23.9 points a game and 11.3 rebounds. He is the third leading all-time scorer at West Texas with 1,171 points.

McKee, the only senior on the Ohio starting five, scored 445 points--an 18.5 average--and holds the school's career scoring record of 1,270 points. He is averaging 9.5 rebounds a game.

West Texas' only other starting senior, Mike Mitchell, takes a 17.5 scoring average into the NIT and a career total of 1,174 points, second highest in West Texas history.

Two other Buffs also are averaging in double figures--Juniors James McCloud, with 14.2, and Dale Blaut, with 11.2.

The inner of the West Texas-Ohio game meets the winners of the Rutgers-Tennessee game, also scheduled Friday night, on Monday night.

All West Texas games will be broadcast by radio station KGNC, Amarillo, with Warren Hasse, the voice of the Buffaloes, doing the play-by-play from Madison Square Garden.

Other first round pairings: Thursday night--St. Peter's of New Jersey vs. Tulsa, and Florida vs. Temple.

It was attached with three white daisies and she carried a satin and lace covered Bible topped with a daisy and a yellow spring flower corsage with white ribbon streamers with small white daisies attached.

For something old, she wore the ruby engagement ring belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. W. M. Dickerson of Canyon; something blue was the sapphire engagement ring belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. W. M. Brice of Amarillo.

Miss Pat Walker, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Miss Jan Fullerton of Levelland served as bridesmaid. Miss Walker wore yellow and Miss Fullerton wore lime green. The flowergirl, Miss Lisa Neese, cousin of the bridegroom, was dressed in a pink dress with lace pinafore. They all wore daisy headdresses.

Ringbearer was Dub Walker, brother of the bride. He carried a satin and lace covered pillow topped with three ribbon roses and three small daisies.

The ceremony included appropriate nuptial music at the organ by Mrs. Glenn Neese with Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Murray of Panhandle singing "Whither Thou Goest".

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in fellowship hall of the church where the table was covered with a white damask cloth belonging to the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Dickerson. The cloth was a wedding present from her grandmother.

The four-tiered wedding cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. Lewis Tucek of Canyon and was accented with white swans and yellow daisies. Registering guests for the reception were the bride's cousins, Lori Bosley and Becky Miller, both of Canyon.

Homemaker Shares Recipes

Favorite recipes for Chocolate Fudge, Aruba Cucumber Lamb, and Poppin' Fresh Barbecups are shared with our readers this week by Mrs. Rex Griffin of 1421 Creekmere in Canyon.

Miss Griffin, the former Joan Erskine, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Erskine of Canyon. She has one sister, Mrs. Gerry Halsted, in Dallas.

Born in Hedley, Mrs. Griffin was raised at Dallas where she graduated from W. H. Adamson High School. She has since taken three hours of art classes at West Texas State University.

She and her husband, Rex, were married in 1955. He is the son of Mrs. Eddie Denny of Arkansas and the late Bill Griffin of Canyon. His brothers include Ray of Canyon and Wayne of El Paso and he has two sisters, Juanita White of Canyon and Olea Welch of Amarillo.

He attended Canyon Public Schools, served with the United States Army and returned to Canyon where he attended West Texas State University for several courses. He has been associated with Griffin Bros. Truck Stop in Canyon since the age of 14 and has been manager for eight years, in partnership with his brother, Ray. Mrs. Griffin keeps business books for the service station.

The Griffins have lived in Canyon since 1954, with the exception of two years which they spent in Amarillo.

They are members of Grace Baptist Church in Canyon. She is secretary for the adult class and he serves as bookkeeper for the church.

The Griffins have four children including Ross, 14; Paul, 12; Matt, 9; and Rexann, 6. Both Ross and Paul are involved with Boy Scouts and take band in school. Matt is active in the Cub Scouts and Rexann, a first grade student, takes dancing and music lessons. Another son, Billy, 16, died in an automobile accident in January 1968.

Oil painting of landscapes and flowers is a favorite hobby for Mrs. Griffin. She also said that she passes time with sewing and trying new recipes from her collection.

Her husband likes spectator sports and was a baseball coach for Little League last year. He also likes to play basketball with his sons and when the Griffins recently moved into their new home on Hillcrest "the basketball hoop was the first thing put in place", stated Mrs. Griffin.

Both she and her husband like bowling and she is active in a Tuesday night league.

Also included in the Griffin family are a chihuahua named "Peanut"; three black poodles named "Couquette", "Josette", and "Napoleon"; and a parrot named "Jolly Roger".

The recipes which she shares are:

CHOCOLATE FUDGE

1 1/3 cups milk
4 sq. (4 oz.) chocolate

Combine in heavy three quart saucepan. Stir over low heat until chocolate is melted. Do not allow mixture to boil. Stir in:

4 cups sugar
2 Tbsp. white corn syrup
1/2 tsp. salt

Cook slowly stirring until sugar is dissolved. Increase heat to medium and bring to boiling. Cook stirring occasionally at 234 degrees (soft ball stage).

Using a pastry brush, dipped in water, wash down the crystals from sides of saucepan during cooking.

Remove from heat and cool to lukewarm. Do not stir or jar pan while cooling. Then add:

1/4 cup butter or margarine
4 tsp. vanilla extract

Beat vigorously until dull in color. Quickly turn into buttered 9 inch square pan, without scraping bottom and sides of saucepan. Set aside to cool. Cut when firm into 1 1/2 inch squares.

May substitute 6 Tbsp. of peanut butter instead of regular butter for a different flavor. Very good.

ARUBA CUCUMBER LAMB

3 lb. lean boneless lamb shoulder, cut in 1 1/2 inch cubes

salt and pepper
3 Tbsp. salad oil
2 med. onion, sliced thin
2 celery stalks, chopped fine
1 green pepper, chopped fine finely minced fresh hot chilies or dried red pepper to taste

2 garlic cloves, minced or mashed
3/8 tsp. ground black pepper
1 1/2 cups water
2 cucumbers, peeled, seeded and shredded
1 cucumber peeled in alternating lengthwise strips, sliced paper thin tomato wedges

Season meat with salt and pepper. In large kettle brown meat cubes on all sides in salad oil. Remove meat and set aside.

Discard from kettle all oil in excess of 3 Tbsp. Add onion, celery, green pepper and fresh chilies (if used). Saute until limp.

Return meat to kettle along with crushed dried peppers (if you use them instead of fresh).

Add dry seasonings (garlic, black pepper) and water. Cover and simmer two hours until meat is tender. Add water a little at a time if needed while cooking.

Taste and add additional salt, chilies and pepper to taste.

POPPIN' FRESH BARBECUPS

3/4 lb. ground beef
1/2 cup barbecue sauce
1 Tbsp. instant minced onion
2 Tbsp. brown sugar
1 can prepared baking powder biscuits
3/4 cup shredded cheddar cheese

In large skillet, brown ground beef and drain. Add barbecue sauce, onion and brown sugar. Set aside.

Separate biscuit dough into 12 biscuits. Place one biscuit in each of 12 ungreased muffin cups and press dough up sides of edge of cup. Spoon meat mixture into cups. Sprinkle top of each with cheese.

Bake at 400 degrees for 10-12 minutes until golden brown.

Serve with salad and green vegetable.

Tanglewood News

BY GAY HENDRIX

Once this winter weather breaks into spring we can expect many projects for improving the Lake Tanglewood Club to get underway. I dare say that 2 weeks after this severe weather is over we will hardly recognize the place.

David Casey is spending about $25,000 to improve the Club's entrance. He feels it is important that the gate and the gatekeeper's house be dignified and in keeping with the rest of the homes at the lake. Kenneth Turner's new home has 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, a modern, well-equipped kitchen, and a large communications office. The new gate will be quite massive with a large wrought iron sign saying "Lake Tanglewood, private membership" and will be flanked by Spanish ornamental daggers. It will be easier to drive through than the other gates we have had--we will not have to weave around islands of equipment in S-curve fashion. The same type speaker system and gate cards will be used. Mr. Casey has also planned extensive landscaping around the home and gate, and 500 California poplar trees will line both sides of 975 feet of road starting where the old gate is located and running up to the new one. Perhaps you have missed seeing the club's road equipment scattered thither and yon. Kenneth and Luther have bulldozed out a parking lot for it up next to the dump grounds--well out of sight.

The club has purchased a portable pumping system. The Wisconsin Centrifugal Pump is on a trailer that hitches to Kenneth Turner's pickup and can be hauled quickly to the sight of fire. It pumps water from the lake through 500 feet of hose which can throw the water as far as the biggest fire trucks in Canyon and Amarillo. This will be adequate for fighting small fires, or for holding large fires down until the Canyon or Amarillo fire department can get there. So let Kenneth's number down near your telephone, just in case.

The Dick Tinkhams open the Tanglewood Club regularly from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. every day except Monday. During these hours they are your friendly family grocer, your smiling Shamrock dealer and handy restaurateurs all rolled into one. Charlie Walker has built new shelves, and the grocery is now stocked with a good selection of canned goods, paper products, soap and detergent, septic tank powder, charcoal, lighter fluid, bread and milk, gasoline service for both boats and cars is available again. The restaurant menu offers a nice assortment of hamburgers and sandwiches. Plate lunches run from $1.25 to $1.95, including salad and bread. Mr. Tinkham wants the clubhouse to be a family place and is planning activities and menus that will attract the young people.

Mr. Casey is eager to meet as many club members as possible and hear their suggestions--yes, even if they are a little crazy. His office is in Suite 600, Bank of the Southwest Building, but you're just as likely to find him behind a cup of coffee at the clubhouse. So, members, don't hesitate to speak up!

City Life Responsibility For All City Dwellers

By the year 2,000 about 80 per cent of the nation's people will live in cities with populations of more than 1 million, Dr. Arthur A. Atkisson said Wednesday.

Dr. Atkisson, executive director of the Institute of Urban Ecology at the University of Southern California, said more than half of the 80 per cent will be concentrated in four giant metropolitan areas.

Dr. Atkisson was guest speaker Tuesday and Wednesday at a Regional-Metropolitan Affairs Conference at West Texas State University.

He said a recent survey taken by George Gallup indicated that 22 per cent of the population polled said they would like to live in metropolitan areas, 49 per cent said they would prefer small towns and farms and the remainder said they prefer suburban living.

"What the public wants is the kind of environment which is not characteristic of the megalopolis," Dr. Atkisson said. "But, this is just the kind of environment he is going to get in the future."

He said this fact--that the population will be forced to live in areas where they don't really desire to live--will cause great tension which will in turn compound problems which are even now confronting metropolitan areas.

Dr. Atkisson spoke to about 350 persons Wednesday morning on the problems which will face urban communities in the future.

Saying that he is not foreseer of doom for mankind, Dr. Atkisson nevertheless outlined five factors which will influence the character of living in this century.

"One is the continuing global population increase," he said. "There will be insufficient room in the future if we go on doing things in the same old way and at the same old places."

The second is the definite trend to urbanization, he said.

The third is the technological changes and their effect on increasing the quality of our lives.

Dr. Atkisson was pessimistic on this point, saying that so far, we have been unable to handle the problems created by technological advances fast enough to curb whatever harm these advances might cause.

The fourth factor is the adaptive capacity of our institutions to respond to the urbanization and change.

The fifth factor, he said, is the increasing aspirations of mankind to reach higher levels and satisfy higher needs than hunger and shelter.

Dr. Atkisson pointed out many problems which will be caused either directly or indirectly by urbanization. For example, he listed air pollution and high noise level.

"My point is this," he said. "We are responsible for the design and the quality of life in American cities. In designing these cities we frame the quality of our life. That's why we have to be concerned."

McBride Attends ACLD Conference

Mrs. Travis McBride returned Saturday to Canyon after attending a four-day conference in Ft. Worth where she served as a representative of the "North Plains Council for Children With Disabilities."

More than 3,500 delegates from all over the United States and from several foreign countries attended the International Convention.

Over 160 of the delegates were doctors, educators, legislators, and parents, who participated in lectures, demonstrations, and panel discussions making up the program.

The ACLD or the Association for Children with Learning Disabilities is a local, state, national, and international organization created for the purpose of studying problems encountered by children with perceptual handicaps preventing their learning through standard methods.

These children are of average or above average intelligence but must learn through specialized training programs.

Many exhibits were on display such as games, records, and apparatuses designated as physical usage equipment.

Others attending from Canyon were Dr. Kenneth Waugh and Mrs. Guy Bush, both of West Texas State University.

Mrs. McBride is a learning disability therapist working with Dr. Hugh Stickel, Jr. in Amarillo.

She is a former 6th grade teacher from Gene Howe Elementary School where she taught science, math, health, and physical education. She also taught at Rex Reeves in Canyon for several years.

Mrs. McBride said that there is a local council of this organization in Amarillo, made up of parents of the children with the learning handicap. They have a monthly meeting that takes place on the 3rd Thursday of each month at 7:30 in the First Christian Church.

Parents of children with learning disabilities and other interested persons are welcomed to attend the meetings.

"TEXAS" Picture On Display

Visitors to the Southwest Sports and Vacation Show in Dallas this week will have the opportunity to see an unusual photograph of the famed "TEXAS" production featured on the Amarillo, Texas display.

It is a night photograph showing the entire cast on the stage of the theatre in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park at a climatic moment in the show, and revealing a large part of the audience as well. Since the distances in the theatre from the audience to the background are great, this is the first night photograph in color which has clearly shown the audience and the stage.

It will give the viewers a good concept of the sweep of the production. The photographer is Frank Lee of Amarillo, whose principal work is with the Southwest Public Service Company.
